Their most obedient and obliged humble Servant,

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subscriber is much obliged to his planting Friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf three Years past, have thereby introduced it to himself, and acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being sufferers by their intended Kindness to him, as it is very indistinctly insinuated, that Rice would not sell at his Wharf: But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himself his Friends are fully so too, that their Crops landed in large small Parcels, will sell altogether as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentleman, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and sell Rice or Indigo landed thereat: He therefore resolves to decline that Business, finding it more than he is able to go through. He hopes his good Friends will still land their crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he shall take Care to merit that their Boats have all possible Dispatch. As to the Safety and Convenience of his Docks and Stores, he is sure there are none preferable to them in Town in those respects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more secure from Fire; and 'tis almost impossible for a Barrel of Rice to be lost or stolen in Landing or Shipping at his Wharf. Each Gentleman as use his Wharf constantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Rice:—No prudent Planter but must be convinced, that this is the Matter of the utmost Consequence to him, as many, for these three Years past, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) spoiled of very much against their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is sure has been the case, particularly this Year several Times, notwithstanding the Care of the Crop.

GIBBES & HORT,

For long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all the Branches, and confine themselves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will transact their Business on his Wharf: To these Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend such of his Friends who are not otherwise engaged.

Christopher Gadsden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depend on not wanting Storage for such Parcels of Rice as they purchase at his Wharf.

THE views of our monarch are, as usual, not to be defined; many people imagine, that his treaties with Russia are more than, to cover one of more consequence with the Emperor of Germany, by which it is said all Pomerania and Polish Prussia, together with a large sum of money, are to be given to our Sovereign; while the Emperor is to take possession of that fine part of Poland which lies contiguous to the hereditary dominions. In this manner, it is thought, that unfortunate country will be dismembered. Russia is to be contented with some of the northern provinces. The Emperor and our Majesty have, we hear, concluded a secret treaty with the Courts of Copenhagen, Stockholm, and the Porte; by which they are to maintain their new dominions, which the above Courts are to guarantee. Should Russia and the Poles join to expel the Prussians and Imperialists, the Turks will be let loose on the coast of the Black Sea and the southern parts of Poland, while the Danes and Swedes are to harass them on the north and north-west; which, with the forces the two united powers can bring into the field, will effectually secure their dominions from any power. This scheme is much talked of here; and if it takes place, will prove a master stroke of politics.

STOCKHOLM, August 15. This day the States were assembled in Pleno extraordinarily, when an Extract of the Secret Committee's Protocol was read, containing an account that the garrison of Christiansburg in Schonen had revolted, and made itself master of the fortress, headed by one Hellichius, a captain in the said garrison; and that, as this affair may have dangerous consequences, the Secret Committee has, for the better security of this Capital, ordered one battalion of the regiment of Upland, and one of that of Sudernamia, to march hither, and the cavalry of Sorghers to patrolle in the night. Senator Funck and General Becklin are also sent down to Schonen, empowered to assemble the troops, and take such measures as shall be found necessary to reduce the revolted garrison, and restore the public tranquillity. Several of the members of the Secret Committee having absented themselves for a long time, new ones have been elected in their places.

August 21. Yesterday morning a paper was laid upon the table, in one of the apartments of the Palace, for all those to subscribe who are willing to swear fidelity to the King, and it is said that the number of subscribers has been very large.

August 22. Yesterday being the day when the form of government, sworn to by the King, of the 29th of May, and by the States the first of June, was to be abolished, and a new one to be produced in a Plenum Plenum of all the orders, a detachment of guards was ordered to take possession of the Square where the House of Nobles stands; and the Palace was invested on all sides with troops, and cannon were placed in the Court near the Hall where the States were assembled.

The scene was opened by a speech from the throne; his Majesty had in his hand the silver hammer of Gustavus Adolphus, with which he made the signal for silence, an office usually performed by a Senator, but none were present. His Majesty concluded his speech by assuring the Plenum, that he did not desire the Sovereignty, and would take a solemn oath to renounce it, which he immediately did.

His Majesty then ordered the new form of Government to be read to them by a Secretary of Revision. This piece consists of above forty articles; the essential ones are,

- 1st, The King is to chuse the Senate himself.
 - 2dly, His Majesty is to call the States together when he pleases, and to separate them also when he pleases, after three months.
 - 3dly, The contributions are to be given by the States, but if not granted within three months, the old ones are to remain: In case of invasion, or pressing necessity, his Majesty may impose some taxes for raising money till the States can be assembled.
 - 4thly, When the States are assembled, they are to deliberate upon nothing but what his Majesty pleases to lay before them.
 - 5thly, His Majesty has the sole disposition of the army, navy, and finances, and of all employments civil and military.
- As soon as the whole of this piece was read through, his Majesty asked the Plenum if they would give him their oath to observe this form of government? Which being answered in the affirmative, he required them immediately to swear to it, which they did accordingly. His Majesty then required the Speakers of the respective Orders to come to the table and sign and seal the new form.

After all this ceremony was over, the King stood up and said, that it was proper to thank God for his assistance, in bringing about so happy an event, and pulling a palm-book out of his pocket, he began to sing the Te Deum, in which he was accompanied by the whole Assembly.

His Majesty then permitted the States to kiss his hand, after which he left the room, and the States separated without knowing whether they were to meet again or not. This depends on his Majesty's pleasure.

PARIS, August 10. Captain Trabucher, Commander of a ship lately arrived in Nantes river, from St. Domingo, met with a very extraordinary event in his passage. The 16th day after he set sail, about eleven o'clock at night, he felt a great shock, and the whole crew imagined the ship had struck upon a rock; they immediately set the pumps to work, finding a great deal of water in the hold, and were all very much alarmed. When the day appeared, they found a monstrous fish, thirty or forty feet long, fastened to the ship, and endeavored by every means to get it off, but to no purpose. The Captain therefore made up to a ship about three leagues distant, which happened to be an English ship, commanded by Captain Smith, and with his assistance they at last cut away this monstrous fish; but it was then so much cut and disfigured that it was impossible to make out what it was, and they were afraid to send down the divers to examine the ship, for fear they should become a prey to those voracious animals. The next day they examined the ship, and found her pierced in two places about four feet above her keel, by a kind of horn which had made an orifice of three inches in diameter. They were obliged to pump night and day, and the English ship kept in company in order to give any assistance that might be necessary.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 24. We have just received the disagreeable news here of a dangerous revolt of some troops which were under the command of Aga Neogren Zede, at Adrianople. They rose in the night of the 23d instant, and having killed several of their officers, immediately went to the Aga's tent, but he found means to escape their fury; they then fell to plundering the military chest, out of which they took near 2,000,000 pieces of eight, and all the arms, &c. they could find. From thence they proceeded to the principal houses, which they plundered, but met with some opposition by a party of horse, which had been suddenly raised by the Pacha who commanded there; they were soon defeated, and the malcontents proceeded out of the town, heading their march towards Egypt.

MADRID, August 15. By advices from Paris we are informed that the Count de Fuentes, Ambassador Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the King of Spain at the Court of France, is to set out on his return to Madrid, without any person being appointed to succeed him as they have yet heard of.

PETERSBURGH, August 12. Lord Cathcart, Ambassador from Great Britain, departed yesterday from this city. Besides the customary present which Ministers of that character receive from the Court at their departure, which consists of 10,000 roubles, the Empress hath made presents to the children of that Ambassador, amounting to about the value of 20,000 roubles.

COPENHAGEN, August 20. For some time past the Privy Council hath met twice a day.

Our Court hath received by an eddicte, the news of a rebellion in Sweden.

THE last accounts from Algiers inform us, that all the Spaniards in that city have been taken up by orders of the Day, and closely imprisoned. The reason assigned for this measure by his Highness and the Regency, it is said, is, a pretended discovery they have made of the hostile designs of the Court of Madrid.

By an account of the valuable diamond lately purchased at Amsterdam, for the use of the Empress of Russia, it appears, that that celebrated traveller saw at the Court of the Great Mogul, weighed but 279 carats; whereas this weighs 779.

A courier has, we hear, been dispatched from Algiers to the Spanish Court, demanding a definitive answer relative to its real disposition towards that State. An answer is anxiously expected by the Spaniards how in confinement there, whose fate depends on a decision on the part of that Court, of any hostile intention.

From Paris, we are informed, that the Countess of Barre, the French King's mistress, has lately made a purchase of a Marquisate in the province of Picardy, which has cost her (or more properly speaking, the King's miserable wretched subjects) one million six hundred thousand livres.

A letter has for some time past been close under the French shore near Dunkirk, to watch the motions of a ship in which a large quantity of French goods are exported, an account of some dignified smugglers.

We are informed by a very intelligent farmer, who has just returned from a tour through most of the counties in England, that there never was a more plentiful crop of all kinds of grain, particularly of wheat, oats, and peas, and that the farmers would be at a loss for room to hold it, as their housing which used to contain their crops was not this year nearly sufficient to receive the produce of their fields.

We hear from Perth, that on Tuesday last, on digging away the foundation of an old house there, where the Scottish Parliaments were held above 300 years ago, a copper medal was found, on the one side is represented a figure on horseback, supposed to be Marston clothed in royal apparel, and a crown upon his head (as mentioned in the 6th chapter of Esther) with Haman leading his horse; in the reverse, the gallows on which Haman was hanged.

The corn harvest in Hungary, Bohemia, and Austria both been so abundant, that the Empress Queen hath ordered that the public and military magazines be furnished for three years. The vines also promise exceedingly well.

There is now standing in a village, named Grenton, in Somersetshire, a cottage called Edge-house, in which, according to a tradition which prevails among the inhabitants there, the Duke of Montmouth endeavored to conceal himself after the battle of Sedgemoor, in 1685, where he was hospitably entertained by the poor shepherd, the inhabitant. This seems to contradict what our historians have said of that Prince's being found in a field, covered with straw, with row peas in his pocket. We wish some gentleman near the spot would set this matter in a true light.

It is said that several merchants in the city are upon the point of forming themselves into a company for the purpose of importing annually a certain quantity of American flour.

August 22. Yesterday there was a remarkably thin levee at St. James's, it was over before two o'clock. After the levee was over a cabinet-council was held, at which Lord North, the two Secretaries of State, and Lord Sandwich assisted. His Majesty returned to Kew to dinner about half past three o'clock.

On Thursday the Earl of Dartmouth presided at a Board of Trade and Plantations, for the first time since his appointment.

On Thursday the Hon. Egerton Leigh, Esq; his Majesty's Attorney-General of South-Carolina, took leave of their Majesties at St. James's, previous to his departure for that province; and had the honour to kiss their Majesties hands.

The Duke of Cumberland, says a correspondent, deserves the biggest applause for his present conduct, as in the same moment that he disdains every accommodation with the Court, that would interfere with the dignities of his Duchy, he declines every overture that would engage him in an opposition against his nearest relations.

Extract of a letter from an English merchant in Dantzick, to his friend in London.

"This once flourishing country is involved in every species of personal and political calamity. The ravages of pestilence, the more flow and excruciating torments of famine, and the devastations of the sword, have equally combined to render it the most wretched region upon earth. The present may indeed appear, to people at a distance, a most extraordinary crisis, and big with new mischiefs; but that it is impossible for whatever alteration may take place, the miserable survivors must certainly be gainers. Nothing can be surely added to the former descriptions of the sufferings of this once opulent kingdom, the greater part of it being actually reduced to a desert, and the inhabitants either totally exterminated, or carried off by force, to people the inhospitable regions of Siberia and Kamtschatka. The Russian Ambassador is, in effect, the real Sovereign, and as despot at Warsaw as his mistress is at Petersburg or Moscow. Whatever turn affairs may take, we look on the Prussians and Austrians as messengers from heaven, destined to release us from the hands of those merciless barbarians. In fine, though I have resided here almost twenty-seven years, I have not so far forgot my native country, nor its concerns, as not to revere the memory of Henry the Eighth, and Cromwell; yet, to be plain with you, my hatred of cruelty and oppression is so strong, and the sense I retain of them so lively, from being a witness to their commission in such a number of instances, that had I lived in England in the days of either of those inhuman tyrants, I doubt much whether they could have enticed in me a more fixed overton, or a warmer indignation, than the consequences which have arisen from that spirit of dominion (so destructive to her species) evidently inhabiting the breast of the renowned Catherine, Empress of all the Russias, and grand arbitress of the affairs of this part of Europe."

Extract of a letter from Peterburgh, July 29.

"We have intelligence from Berowitz, that his Excellency Lieutenant General Siworski entered the city of Novogrod in the character of Governor of that city and province; and after having manifested the orders of the Senate, the inhabitants took the oath of homage and fidelity, which event occasioned great joy to them; so that the whole city was illuminated on this occasion, and great rejoicings continued three nights one after the other. His Excellency then went, on the 9th of this month, to visit the new-built city of Wisny Wolosk, where he is to reside."

"The 24th of this month a courier was dispatched for Leghorn to General Orlov, with orders for him to set out from thence with the men of war, and transport ships for the Mediterranean as soon as possible."

Extract of a letter from Warsaw, dated August 2.

"The commanders of the Austrian troops, have received orders to behave in the most friendly manner to the Russians."

"The Imperial Ambassador is not expected here, till some affairs now in dispute between these two Courts will be settled."

"A dark cloud covers the fight of our politicians, nor can they possibly penetrate the present state of Holland; but so much is known, that every thing solely depends upon the success of the present negotiations at Pessand. At Vienne has been found a great treasure in plain and gold under ground, which lately has been hidden there by the inhabitants. But the Imperial commander has published a manifesto, by which the respective proprietors of it are to come and take each his share. The truce between the Turks and Russians being only to operate upon the continent, no Turkish vessels have appeared in the open sea since, as the Captains of them had orders not to venture going out of their respective harbours."

By advices from Spain we learn, that the enrollment of persons fitly qualified to serve on board his Catholic Majesty's ships of war, the number amounted to twenty-two thousand, besides those in actual employ. More than one half of these registered seamen can be brought to their places of rendezvous in less than a fortnight, and the remainder within three months. By the above advices we likewise hear, that the King of Spain has lately given orders for taking a list of all the foreigners settled in his dominions. The intention of this order, it is said, is to prevent the natives from assuming the quality of foreigners, in order to enjoy certain privileges granted by treaty.

By accounts from Corfica, by the way of Leghorn, we are informed, that all the lenient measures used by the French to reconcile the natives of that island, have not yet proved effectual. They have, it is said, lately broke out with their usual ferocity, surprised several party posts, and have put three subaltern officers, and about forty private men, to the sword.

By the last letters from Leghorn we are informed, that the boats have been so excessive this summer throughout the Campaign, as to have caused an epidemical disorder, which daily carries off great numbers of its inhabitants, the ravages of which it is dreaded will extend to the city of Rome itself.

By the last letters from Toulon we learn, that the Star Bompert, commandant of the marine in that port, has received orders to hold in readiness for sailing five men of war of the line and two frigates. The necessary preparations are making on board this fleet for the reception of three regiments of infantry. These accounts add, that it is generally believed this armament is destined for the West-Indies.

August 24. At the last board of Treasury, money was issued out for the payment of the Government accounts on the civil list in America.

Two vessels are arrived at Peterburgh from Glasgow, having on board a great number of iron cannon, cast in Scotland, for the service of the Empress of Russia.

August 26. A person just arrived from Cadix, says, that two days before he left that place a detachment of Spanish troops embarked there on board of three transport ships for the Havana, escorted by two men of war.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Lisbon, to a Merchant in Cork, July 10.

"On the 3d instant was executed, pursuant to her sentence, Louiza de Jesus, for the murder of 33 infants, that were at different times committed to her care by the Directors of the Foundling Hospital at Coimbra, for which, as appears by the sentence published, she had no other inducement but 600 reas in money, a covado of baiz, and a cradle, that she received with each of them. She was but 22 years of age when executed. Going to execution she was pinched with hot irons; at the gallows her hands were struck off; she was then strangled, and her body burnt."

August 29. It is said that a Great Personage, not content with his celebrity for his mechanical genius, is now putting in his claim to the literary also, as will appear in a short time, by the publication of an epitaph on General Wolfe, which he is now composing.

Letters from Vienna mention, that the late Baron Van Swieten died very rich, having, besides other very considerable legacies, bequeathed to his widow two hundred thousand florins, and to his three children one hundred thousand each.

The poetical fire of Monf. de Voltaire is not yet extinguished, he having now in the winter of life produced a Tale in verse, intitled Life, which has all the warmth of the spring time of his days.

SEPTEMBER 1. It was last night currently reported, that France has absolutely refused to assist Spain at any time in a war against Great-Britain; and this, it is said, occasioned the Spanish ambassador's departure.

A French frigate is arrived at Copenhagen, which has made a voyage Northwards, with several Mathematicians, in order to make trial of a time-piece, of a new invention. She sailed first to Guinea, then to the Madeiras, and from thence to Iceland, where she staid three weeks.

SEPTEMBER 3. From Compeigne we learn, that the Marquis of Montenard, secretary of state, and to whose department the affairs of Corfica immediately belong, waited on his most Christian Majesty, and presented him a plan for settling the government and administration of affairs in that island upon the most solid and respectable footing. It is imagined one principal branch of this scheme is relative to the restoration of the French marine to its former power, splendor, and importance, among the maritime powers of Europe.

Certain accounts from Warsaw say, that the Russian Envoy Baron de Saldern is gone from thence to Konigsburg, where a second congress is to be held concerning the affairs of Poland. The Emperor and the King of Prussia are to meet there.

SEPTEMBER 5. Orders are sent for repairing all the principal forts on the coast of Africa, provision having been made by the Parliament last session for that purpose.

This day a wardmote was held at the School-house in St. Mary Ax, for the election of an Alderman of Lime-street Ward, in the room of Sir Robert Kite, deceased; when Joseph Martin, Esq; was unanimously chosen.

SEPTEMBER 8. There is now a dispute subsisting between the two principal Colleges of the Empire, that of the Electoral College, and that of the College of Princes, concerning their several rights, about which they have carried their contention to a very great length.

A correspondent says that it may be depended on, that Admiral Knowles has imparted some discoveries, which he has lately made, that will be highly advantageous to the English merchants trading to the Russian Empire.

DUBLIN, August 15. Our letters from the county of Tipperary inform us, that the White Boys are become more numerous and alarming in that county, particularly in the neighbourhood of Carrick, where they have broke into many houses this season, and forcibly carried off all the arms they could get; scarce a night passes that these deluded people are not mustered, either on the one side or the other of the river Luggane, where, from their constant firing of shot, the peaceable inhabitants of the neighbourhood are greatly terrified, and the industrious farmers distressed by having their horses rode to death by them. On Thursday night, the 6th of this instant, Felix May, of Whitechurch, was met by a party of these miscreants, as he was going home, whom they beat and abused, and cut off his dog's nose with a dagger, for barking at them; the same party went afterwards to a poor man's house on the road to Gregg, and cut and locked him in a most violent manner. Strange infatuation! that neither the lenity of government, nor the many public examples, will have the proper effect on these uncivilized wretches.

This day at a Post Assembly of the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, and Commons, his Excellency Sir Joseph Yorke, Colonel of the Royal Regiment of Dragoons in this establishment, and Ambassador to the States-General, was presented with the freedom of this city in a gold box.

On Wednesday last eleven of the Hays of Steel, who were indicted in the county of Down, and transmitted to Dublin for trial, pursuant to a late Act of Parliament for that purpose, were brought up to the bar, by virtue of a commission for holding a special goal delivery. The Court sat three days, the two first of which was taken up in disputes between the Judges and Council under what commission they sat, and yesterday a great number of witnesses were with the utmost candour and integrity examined on behalf of the Crown, and after a long and excellent charge given to the Jury, they were brought in Not Guilty.

NEW-YORK, OCTOBER 12.

Wednesday last the sloop Sally, Captain Montgomery, arrived here from Barbados, in 30 days, who informs us, that all the transports with the troops from Boston, were safe arrived there, and had sailed for St. Vincens.

OCTOBER 19. Monday last arrived here from London, the seven following transports, viz. The ships Noble Boy, Capt. Dutchman, Argo, Capt. Graves, Isabella, Capt. Brown, Maria, Capt. Davison, Jamaica, Capt. Adams, Dispatch, Capt. Philipson, and the Brig Ocean, Capt. Tendall.

The above ships, we hear, are designed to carry his Majesty's Royal American Regiment, now in this city, and the Jersey's, to the islands of Jamaica and Antigua.

PHILADELPHIA, OCTOBER 21.
Yesterday last the General Assembly of this province met, when Joseph Galloway, Esq; was chosen speaker; and Charles Moore, Esq; clerk of the house. Benjamin Franklin, Esq; is continued agent for this province; Joseph Fox, Esq; barrack master; and William Crispin, Esq; collector of excise. And on Friday the house adjourned to the 28th of January next.

Extract of a letter from London, August 31, 1772.
Lord Hillsborough has actually resigned, and Lord Dartmouth fixed in his place, who is one of the best men alive, mild and gentle, always meaning well, and ready to hear reason, and to follow good advice; so that I hope the colonies will soon find their account in this change, and that what remains still in dispute between them and us, will quickly be adjusted to our mutual satisfaction and content.

The Ohio affair is now fully decided; but the forms necessary to be gone through, before the charter and form of government are settled, necessarily take up some time; and just now all the public offices are adjourned.

The affairs of the East-India company are now in some confusion. Their servants in all their settlements are disobedient to their masters, and oppressive, in the highest degree, to the natives. The directors again think superiors are necessary, and have laid their opinions before a general court of the proprietors. It will now soon be settled, whether that measure shall be adopted. By the last accounts I have been able to procure, the revenues of the company are immense, and if collected with fidelity, would produce large remittances from thence; but their Governors are rapacious beyond example, and if not speedily checked, will ruin our valuable interests in that part of the world.

Poland remains in a state of distraction, and is likely to be dismembered by the neighbouring powers; but as the rest of Europe seem not at all disposed to interfere, and to be pacificably disposed, there is very little likelihood of a general war; so that we shall probably enjoy the blessings of peace for a great while to come; I wish we could learn to make the proper use of it.

By Captain Manns, from Dominica, we learn, that on the 21st of August, a large brig, Captain Collins, belonging to Quebec, was drove ashore and lost, but the people saved; and the Governor's sloop, with the Engineer's schooner, and thirteen other fail there, all lost; all the other vessels that were at the island, when the hurricane came on, put out to sea.

By Captain Carr, from Grenada, we learn, that Governor Fitzmorris, who came there, on a visit, from St. Vincent, died a few days after his arrival.

Since our last arrived here the ship Crawford, Captain Smith, from Rotterdam, with Germans.

With Captain Winnig, from Londonderry, came passenger John Patterson, Esq; appointed collector of his Majesty's customs for this port.

Captain Copland, from St. Vincent, informs, that between thirty and forty fail of vessels were drove ashore at Guadaloupe, in the late hurricane, and it was feared would be lost; and that a sloop was lost at Martinico.

SAVANNAH, (in Georgia) OCTOBER 7.
On Thursday the 1st instant, died at Ogeechee, Dr. Ravry, a native of Switzerland, who came lately from New-York, recommended by some gentlemen of the first character in the army with him to be served. He acquired the esteem of all who had the happiness of his acquaintance here, and has died much lamented.

ROBERT 14. Saturday morning last died here, Mrs. Catherine, wife of Dr. Francis Begbie, and sister to the honorable Graham, Esq.

OCTOBER 21. Saturday last the Honourable John Stuart, Superintendent of Indian Affairs for the Southern District, arrived here from South-Carolina.

Monday night died, John Simpson, Esq; Acting Provost-Marshal for this province.
The report propagated in South-Carolina, of the yellow fever in this province, is destitute of truth.

CHARLES-TOWN, NOVEMBER 10.
Yesterday last the Sloop New-York Packet, Jesse Hunt, Master, arrived here from New-York, in whom came a number of Passengers.

Wednesday last 70 Barrels of new Rice was brought to Town, sold at Four Pounds per Hundred, on Account of the present great Demand in the West-Indies.

We hear that this Year's Crop of Rice will far exceed any made in this Province.

Thursday last the Brig Charles-Town Packet, Samuel Wright, Master, arrived here from Philadelphia, in whom came Passengers, Thomas Smith, Esq; Mr. Thomas Legare, sen. Mr. John Call, jun. Mrs. McCall, Mr. William Sykes, and Mr. John Jones, of this Town; Mr. Coats, Mr. Dilwin, of Philadelphia, and some others.

The same Day the Brig Betsey, George Fowler, Master, arrived from New-York, in whom came Passengers Mr. George Hewes, and Mr. Aaron Simonson, of this Town; Mr. John Simons, of Ponpon; Captain William Peacock, of Georgia; Joseph Marichalk, Mr. Levinus Clarkson, Mr. William R. Cortlandt, of New-York, and several others.

The Brig Friendship, Captain Joseph Blewer, is arrived at Philadelphia, from this Port.

We learn that not long since, a Party of Cherokee Indians upon and murdered Captain Gueff, of Virginia, and some other Gentlemen that accompanied him, as they were on the business of viewing the Lands lately ceded to that Colony by that Nation.

Yesterday the Honourable the Commons House of Assembly of this Province met here, agreeable to the last Prorogation.

One (a Corner Lot) has three Fronts—For Height, Convenience, Pleasantness, and Healthfulness of Situation, they are inferior to none in Town, and the Water thereon as good as any to be met with in most Parts of the Country. No Situation in Charles-Town is preferable to that of one of the Lots on the Hill, directly fronting the Street leading to my Wharf, where a good House can never be hid, and will always appear to the greatest Advantage.

As the Lots are staked out, so that any Gentleman may view them, and their Situation is well known, nothing farther need be added here, save, that the Purchasers may have One or Two Years Credit, paying Interest, and giving Security if required; or if it suits any to pay this Crop, good Rice will be taken at the current Market-Price, any Time before the First of February next.

ELEANOR FLAMER.

Charles-Town, October 1, 1774.

THE FIRE-MASTERS, GIVE NOTICE,

THAT, in consequence of the great neglect of many of the inhabitants of Charles-Town, in providing buckets and ladders, keeping their chimneys swept clean, and of observing many other directions, required by the laws now in force, wherein the safety and interest of the whole community are nearly concerned, they are determined to carry the said laws strictly into execution: And that none may plead ignorance, the following abstracts are now published for their information, which the fire-masters request all persons concerned strictly to observe.

GABRIEL MANIGAU, } Fire-Masters.
GEORGE SNEED, }
JOHN EDWARDS, }

It is enacted, that no person be persona whatsoever in Charles-Town shall be permitted to keep any straw or hay in his, her, or their dwelling house or kitchen, or out-house, that is joining to his, her, or their dwelling-house, on the penalty of the forfeiture of ten pounds for every such offence.

It is enacted, that every owner or tenant of every dwelling-house in Charles-Town shall provide a leather bucket of six quarts at least, for every fire hearth in such dwelling-house, one fourth part of the whole to be sent to the managers of the fire engines; they are also to provide one ladder of a convenient length for each dwelling-house: Which buckets and ladders are to be always ready in case of fire, on pain of forfeiting the sum of ten pounds; also, a penalty of thirty shillings for every bucket withheld, or refused in time of fire, and if the buckets shall be lost at such time, the fire-masters are to supply the owners with others in the room of them.

The charge of providing buckets and ladders is to be borne and paid by the landlords and owners of houses; but as the said charges may be often paid by the tenant in possession, who is made liable in case of neglect, it is lawful for such tenant to deduct so much out of his rent as he shall from time to time expend in providing buckets and ladders.

It shall be lawful for the fire-masters to enter into the houses, out-houses, stables and yards, of every owner or tenant, to enquire if they are provided with buckets and ladders; and also to view, search and examine, if any quantities of hay, straw, pitch, tar, resin, turpentine, oil, tallow, sulphurous or combustible matters are lodged in any place within the same, which may be in danger of taking fire; and if they find there is danger, it is lawful for them, after having admonished the owner of such house or houses, to remove such combustible matter (in case of refusing or neglecting to remove the same) at the charge of the owner: All persons who shall suffer their chimneys to take fire, and blaze out at the top, shall forfeit the sum of five pounds.

Upon any alarm in the night time, every inhabitant is to repair to the place where the fire is; with his arms, under the penalty of forty shillings, and shall lodge them in such place, near the fire, as shall be appointed by the fire-masters, and the commander of the watch is to order a party of the watch to guard the same: All goods and effects removed, are directed to be carried to the place where the arms are directed to be lodged and guarded. The constables are to appear with their slaves, and assist in guarding the said goods and effects, till removed to some other place of safety, under the penalty of five pounds. Any person that embazles any goods or effects, are to be pilloried, have their ears cut off, and forfeit four times the value thereof.

The fire-masters are empowered to command any person or persons whatsoever, to aid and assist in pulling down houses or buildings, for extinguishing of fires, to the utmost of their strength, power and ability; and in case of refusal, if a white person, he shall forfeit five pounds, and if a slave, he shall be publicly whipped: All persons who shall do or execute anything in obedience to the fire-masters, are indemnified against all persons whatsoever.

Remarkable or considerable services, in preventing or extinguishing fires, are to be rewarded by the fire-masters; and in case any person shall be wounded, maimed, or disabled, in endeavouring to prevent or extinguish fire, a reasonable allowance, maintenance, or provision will be made for such persons.

The masters or managers of the engines may command any person or persons whatsoever that shall be nearest at hand, when any fire breaks out, to aid and assist in conveying the engines to the place where the fire shall be. A white person refusing shall forfeit forty shillings, and a slave is to be publicly whipped. A reward of forty shillings to be paid to those who carry the first engine to the place where the fire first breaks out.

N. B. Those who have lost buckets, are desired to apply to Mr. MANIGAU.

A FRESH PARCEL of Dr. KEYSER'S GENUINE PILLS,

With FULL DIRECTIONS for their Use in all Cases. Where may be seen, A NARRATIVE of the Effects of Dr. KEYSER'S MEDICINE, with an Account of its ANALYSIS, by the Members of the Royal Academy of Science.

Dr. NELSON'S ANTISCORBUTIC DROPS, which have been found by many Years Experience, to surpass all other Remedies hitherto discovered in the Cure of the Scurvy, Rheumatism, Yaws, Venereal Disease, Gleet and Seminal Weaknesses, Ulcers of all Kinds, &c.

ESSENCE of OIL of MINT. This is an excellent Remedy in Want of Appetite, reachings to vomit, and vomiting itself. It strengthens the almost Paralytic Weaknesses of the Stomach, and may be used either internally or externally; it is taken on a Lump of Sugar, from ten to twelve Drops.

Dr. RYAN'S Incomparable WORM-DESTROYING SUGAR PLUMBS.

Dr. HILL'S genuine TINCTURE of VALERIAN. This pleasant Cordial and enlivening Medicine, is good against all Nervous Disorders, Fits, Head-Ache, Weakness, Heaviness, and Lowness of Spirits, Dimness of the Sight, Vapours and Melancholy, all Kinds of Convulsions, and Hysterical Complaints, Epilepsies, as also against the Sickness of the Stomach, and Flatulencies, Obstructions, and the Convulsive Asthma, &c. The proper Use in all the above Cases, may be seen in the Directions given with each Bottle.

Dr. BOERHAAVE'S GRAND BAL-SAM of HEALTH. An admirable Remedy for the Dry Belly-Ach, Cholick, Griping in the Bowels, Pain in the Stomach; it cleanses the Stomach, and procures an Appetite.

ESSENCE of BALM of GILEAD, a grand Restorative of decayed Nature, good in all Seminal Weaknesses, Hypochondriacal and Nervous Disorders, with the Variety of Symptoms which indicate a weak and infirm Constitution.

Its cordial and balmy Quality, renders it also an agreeable palatable Liquor, and prodigiously refreshing in the sultry Heat of Summer; preventing those Sinkings which over-power the Spirits in hot Weather. The proper Use of this noble Medicine may be seen in the Directions.

STOMACHIC LOZENGES. They strengthen and fortify by their balsamic and nutritive Virtues, the tender Vessels of the Stomach, help Digestion, and promote Chylification; they melt in the Mouth like Sugar, are of a most agreeable taste, and fail not to correct the Breath, and the impure Exhalations of the Stomach.

Where also may be had,

JOYCE'S GREAT AMERICAN

BALSAM, extracted from the best Medicinal Herbs, &c. for the Cure of the following Disorders, incident to human Nature; proved from Experience in New-York, Long-Island, and elsewhere, to equal, and rather exceed any Balsam, Essence, or Elixir, &c. exported from Europe here, for the several Disorders hereafter mentioned.

For common green or fresh Wounds, it heals at once or twice dressing, by closing the Lips of the Wound, and laying on the Wound a Pledgit of Lint dipt in the Balsam. In Nervous Wounds, where the Blood Vessels are divided, &c. it stops the Blood immediately, and heals by a few Applications. For the Cure of the most inveterate Ulcers, only wash them and keep them clean, using first if there be any proud Flesh, a common Caustick, to take the Excreffence away, then apply the Balsam on Lint. If the Ulcers should happen to be fistulous, inject by a Syringe, and after close the Orifice with a Pledgit dipt in the Balsam, and so repeat. There are Witnesses undeniable of the Balsam alone curing a Fistula in Ano, now present in New-York: The Author of this Balsam, (under God) will engage to cure a Fistula in Ano, even if the Rectum is perforated, without Incision, except as much by a Lancet to make Way for Injection, and no more. For the Cure of Colds, attended with violent Coughing, Pains in the Breast, Inflammation in the Throat and Glands, Difficulty of Breathing, being obstructed by tough viscid Phlegm; by taking a Tea Spoonful of the Balsam, mixed with Sugar or Honey, it quickly cures, taken twice a Day, Morning fasting, and at Night going to Bed. It is exceeding good in all Manner of Swellings; for violent Falls or inward Bruises, nothing is better, for it restores coagulated Blood, and stops Blood that might be occasioned by the inward Parts being hurt, or a Rhexis of Vessels inwardly. In the Cure of Pleurisy, after Bleeding (where it is required) give a Tea Spoonful three Times a Day, in Sugar, and between Times now and then 20 or 30 Drops of spirituous Nitri dulcis, that is the sweet Spirits of Nitre. It cures Consumptions in them that are not too far gone, except they pass the Age of Fifty, by taking of it inwardly three Times a Day, a full Tea Spoonful mixt with Sugar or Honey, each Dose. It strengthens the Nerves, and is good in all Nervous Disorders, by taking of it inwardly, and anointing the Parts outwardly, keeping warm.

THE AGUE TINCTURE.

The Patient must take a Table Spoonful of the ELIXIR, two Hours before the Approach of the Fit, and he immediately put to Bed, and excited to sweat, by being very warmly covered. Every Half Hour repeat the Dose in the same Quantity, until he or she has taken Four; you are to observe the giving it with a little Sugar, to make it palatable, and let the last Dose be given just as the Fit comes on; this will infallibly perform the Cure.
